Chairman's Message

No member who has been in the Club over the last couple of months will have failed to notice what a hive of activity it has so rapidly become.

The reason, of course, is that our Development Programme has now reached its full momentum and alteration and construction is going on everywhere.

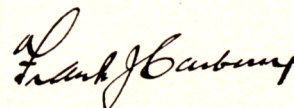

It is possible that a few members might consider the slight inconveniences with which we have to contend to be something of a nuisance. To me however, and I'm sure to all members who have the interests of the Club at heart, they are just the reverse; they show that things are afoot, that progress is being made and as a result the completion of the building and alterations is being brought to a rapid conclusion.

This, of course, is what we all want.

Apropos of this and in connection with the temporary arrangement of having drinks served on the first floor while the lounge on the fourth is out of action, I was pleasantly surprised, when talking to some members recently, to find that they and their guests were rather taken with this idea. They wondered, in fact, whether it might not be made a permanent feature. While I confidently predict they will change their minds when our new lounge is completed upstairs, it is certainly encouraging to see them adopting such a positive attitude to a situation on which the uncharitable could so easily place an entirely different interpretation.

If we all adopt a similar approach over the next few months I'm sure everything will go smoothly and in no time at all we will be enjoying our New Club amenities.

OVER FROM ADELAIDE

One very good thing about turf carnivals and other similar events is that it brings many of our country and interstate members to town. Easter of course is one of the biggest of these and over the period we saw many members from out of town. Amongst them was well known South Australian personality, Clive Waterman, who hails from Adelaide. Clive spent several days in our city during which time he received the congratulations of many of our members on his recent purchase at the New Zealand yearling sales. This was an Agricola (Imp.) — Sunbride (Imp.) colt which is a full brother to High Principle. All members wish Clive every success with his new purchase and hope that perhaps we will see him racing in one of the major events in Sydney at some time in the future. It was nice to have you with us Clive and we hope it won't be long before we have that pleasure again.

JIM STAPLETON IN HOSPITAL

We're sorry to have to report that well known member and Club regular Jim Stapleton spent some time in hospital last month. Jim went in for an operation but it was not a serious one and the indications, at the time of writing, were that he would be out and about again well before this story reached print. We sincerely hope so anyway and his many friends in the Club would like Jim to know that they were sorry to hear of his illness but wish him a very speedy recovery and a permanent return to good health.

ON THE SICK LIST

It's hard to keep a good man down and this phrase applies particularly to our irreplaceable member Roy Barmby, well known around town as one of the motion picture industry's leading executives up to his retirement a few years ago. However, an illness did catch up with Roy last month and this resulted in Roy being confined to his home for a period. Such immobilization must certainly have gone against Roy's grain, so we predict it won't be long before he is out and about again. We all wish you a speedy recovery Roy and hope that we'll be seeing you in the Club again on your old regular basis in the very near future.

CAN'T KEEP AWAY FROM THE WATER

It seems that enthusiastic Swimming Club Secretary and your ever reliable magazine correspondent for that section, life member Jack Dexter, just can't keep away from the water. Although it isn't enough for him to be associated with it all week in connection with his pool activities, when he goes on holidays he the Club hope you both had a happy has to head for the water once again. That's why Easter found Jack together with his son John at Sandon River where they spent a short vacation. The object was to catch some fish but just how successful they were was not reported to us. Your host of friends in holiday and are pleased to see you back in the Club again looking so fit and well.

SEASON FOR SONS

It seems to be the season for having sons, for no less than two of our Club staff have achieved that happy distinction over the last couple of weeks. They are our popular paymaster, Tony Bonnici, and Club steward, Ron Rendell. Both report that wives and sons are doing very nicely and this obviously goes for the proud fathers as well. Tattersall's members send Tony, Ron and their respective families best wishes and hearty congratulations.

OWNER SHARES CELEBRATION WITH MEMBERS

Winning a major race at a major turf carnival is, naturally enough, any owner's greatest wish and when it is fulfilled, even the most blasé of owners can't help but be thrilled by the occasion. This was no doubt W. J. Bradshaw's reaction when Prince Grant convincingly took out the two-mile Sydney Cup during the A.J.C.'s Autumn Carnival. Naturally, a celebration was called for and Mr. Bradshaw decided to share it with all Tattersall's members, or at least those who were present in the Club on settling day. On this occasion he turned on "drinks for the bar" during the lunch hour period and the members who were in attendance on the first floor were delighted with the opportunity of joining him in a victory drink and congratulating him in person on his horse's victory. From those members who were not present we extend to Mr. Bradshaw through this paragraph congratulations, on his spectacular win and good luck with Prince Grant for the future.

PETERS FAMILY ASSOCIATION WITH "SOUTHS"

As was reported in the daily press last month a testimonial dinner was to be given to George Ball whose association with the South Sydney Rugby League Club has stretched over most of this century. This brings to mind the fact that Tom Peters, father of our well known bookmaking members Sam and Jack Peters, held the office of secretary to this club in the year 1908. This is interesting as it was Souths' initial year as a club and was the only one in which George Ball did not hold this office. He became secretary in 1909 and has continuously carried on up to the present. Needless to say both Sam and Jack Peters are enthusiastic followers and supporters of the club and declare that the red and green will always be the favourite football colours of the Peters family.

R.A.S. Prizes by Tattersall's

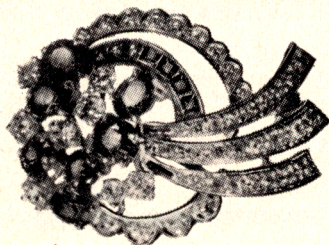

At the last Royal Easter Show Tattersall's Club provided the prizes for one of the most interesting sections. This was the best Gelding in Training and the event attracted some very fine entries. Although the owners of the horses which took first and second places had no direct connection with Tattersall's the third place-getter did. This was gelding "By Gee" which is owned by the wife of well known member and prominent horse trainer, Pat Murray. Naturally Mrs. Murray was delighted with her placing and Tattersall's members send her hearty congratulations on her success in this event which the Club is pleased to sponsor.

GONE BUSH

Leaving the bright lights of the metropolis and settling down in the country is a decision which is never easy to make. However popular member John Hunter made it recently and is now well ensconced as host in an hotel in the country town of Wingham. Reports indicate that though John is happy with his lot in the main he does get a little nostalgic for the sight and the sound of some of his old Tattersall's cobbles. With this in mind he expressed the hope that any member travelling that way would pay him a visit. John assures any such members that they will receive the "red carpet" treatment and a very personal welcome. All your Club friends wish you well in your new location John and those who don't make the journey to Wingham hope to see you in the Club on your next visit to Sydney.

BROKEN FINGER

To the many members whose curiosity was aroused by our Secretary, Lyal Binns, walking around the Club last month with his finger in a prominent splint we can now provide the answer and put an end to any speculation which may have arisen as to just what happened to this secretarial digit. Football was the cause. Football? Yes football. It appears that Lyal was giving his eleven-year-old son some last minute coaching in the game in the hopes that it might sharpen the lad up enough to warrant his selection in the Australian team to play the Englishmen in June. However, Lyal's participation in the youngster's game was far too enthusiastic and resulted in the broken finger. That should teach him not to play out of his age bracket any more.

FAMOUS BOXING FAMILY MEMBER

To very few members would the name Henneberry fail to bring back memories of boxing and the ring. Fred Henneberry was the famous Australian middleweight who thrilled crowds throughout the country in many a stirring match. His brother Bill was a referee of some note and would be remembered all over the world as referee to the Jimmy Caruthers world title fight in South Africa; the only Australian to the best of our knowledge who ever controlled a world title bout. One of the newest members of Tattersall's is Bill Henneberry, son of his famous father of the same name and nephew of Fred. Young Bill is an enthusiastic member already and a great Club supporter. He regularly visits the pool on the third floor at lunch time and has made many friends amongst our members. It's nice to have you with us Bill. We hope you enjoy your membership and that your stay with us will be a long one.

SAME HOST — NEW HOTEL

Racegoers and members who reside in the district will know member Bert Miller as host at the Racecourse Hotel in Randwick. Bert guided the destiny of this "pub" for many years and the patrons had come to look upon him as "permanent". This was not to be however for Bert heard the call of the "big smoke" and has now taken over the Kings Head hotel in town. Bert, incidentally, is a top-line golfer and plays off a very low handicap with the A.H.A. Club where he enjoys a great deal of success. In taking over the Kings Head he replaces another Tattersall's member in the person of Bud Fisher, its former licensee. Bud now plans to take what he assures us is a well earned rest away from the cares of running a city hotel. Members send Bert best wishes for a successful stay with the Kings Head and hope that Bud thoroughly enjoys his new-found leisure.

APPRECIATION FOR HOSPITALITY

A letter recently received from San Francisco pays a tribute to the hospitality offered to the sender by Tattersall's Club. It is self explanatory so we quote it as follows:

"Gentlemen — During a recent visit of the U.S.S. HORNET and her accompanying destroyers to Sydney, I had the great privilege of meeting Mr. "Os" Bates and Mr. Phil Scholer. I was invited to your club by these two gentlemen where I thoroughly enjoyed your hospitality. For this I wish to thank Mr. Bates and Mr. Scholer most heartily and also the Committee and the members of your very fine club. It was truly one of the highlights of my visit to Australia and Sydney in particular. Thanking you again."

It is signed by Lt. George E. Moore to whom we send very best wishes and the sincere assurance that it was a very real pleasure to have him with us.

NEW COLT

Popular member Pat Porter has been one of the Club's most colourful owners over a number of years and his colours have been carried by many well known horses with great success. Once again Pat is in the turf news with the purchase of what we understand to be a very fine looking colt which he bought at the recent yearling sales in Sydney. On breeding his new acquisition looks destined for great things for the colt is by Star Kingdom out of French Crystal. Your Club friends congratulate you on your new horse, Pat, and all hope that it will add substantially to your many successes of the past.

FISHY PREDICTION

Most fishermen tell you their fish stories after they return from their fishing trips but member Jeff Belot reversed the process somewhat recently when he predicted that he was going to catch a "mighty" one while on his vacation. Jeff was on his way to Harrington with his family where he intended to spend a couple of leisurely weeks far from the worries and frustrations of business and with only the availability of the fish to concern him. Whether Jeff's boast about catching the big one was fulfilled or whether it turned into the time worn fishermen's alibi will be a matter of history by the time this journal is published, but regardless of the outcome members hope Jeff and his family had a pleasant time and a fish meal or two while away.

DEPENDS HOW YOU LOOK AT IT

Not normally given to publishing this type of humorous item in News and Views, we could hardly resist this one. We hope you agree.

A local publishing house recently released a book called, "Twenty Seven New Mating Positions". It was newly translated from the original French and sold so fast the presses had to work overtime to keep up with the tremendous demand. "This is fantastic," said the publisher to his partner. "I've never seen anything resembling this kind of rush on a Chess Book before."

NEW MANICURIST

Things are really humming in our barber shop on the first floor now that Paul Bollardini has settled in. Many members have commented on his ability and more and more are making it a regular practice to have their haircuts in the Club. However, something new has been added—a manicurist, so now members can take advantage of this additional service. We'll leave full details of this charming lass until next issue when we can publish a photograph of her, but in the meantime, if any member wants a manicure the Club's the best place to get it.

New Senior Members Honoured

Early last month the Club Committee took great pleasure in officially congratulating six members who had completed fifty years' continuous membership of Tattersall's and thus became eligible for the Senior Members' List. The members concerned and their dates of election to the Club are:

G. J. C. Moore	20/ 7/25
R. C. Brown	24/ 8/25
J. A. Shaw	24/ 8/25
J. H. Tonkin	19/10/25
V. Burleigh	26/11/25
H. E. Arthur	28/ 1/26

The official congratulations took place at a special buffet luncheon held in the board room to mark the occasion. In attendance were members of the Club Committee and the other senior members of the Club. To these six Tattersall's veterans, we offer hearty congratulations and wish them many more years with the Club of which they have been so much a part for the last half century.

With the addition of the six "new-comers", the following is our full list of senior members:

Doyen Trainer Retires

Very few, if any, horse trainers in Australia would have personally earned greater respect nor reflected greater credit on his calling than Frank Dalton, a Tattersall's Club member for many years. It was a great blow to the racing world and a matter of personal regret for many of its members when Frank retired from active training in March of this year. However, time catches up with us all and Frank's doctors advised him to give up the rigours of training in the interests of his continued good health. This Frank, somewhat reluctantly, agreed to do but, in his retirement, he can look back on a colourful career which he has enjoyed to its full and during which he has made countless friends and a vast army of admirers.

Frank's whole life has been involved with the training of racehorses. He started way back when he was in his teens as an assistant to his uncle, Dick O'Connor. O'Connor was a great trainer in his day and will be remembered as such by many of Tattersall's senior members. He trained a Melbourne Cup winner and many other outstanding performers. He had his stables at Kogarah, a Sydney suburb, and it was here that Frank Dalton learned the elements of his craft.

However, Frank was ambitious and anxious to start out on his own. This he did when he reached twenty-one and established his stables at Kensington, where he lived at the time. Frank has trained at only two locations during his long career and sold out at Kensington to move to Randwick. There he remained until his retirement in March when he sold his stables to real estate developers.

Looking back over his career, Frank says he has always been blessed with fine owners and counts himself fortunate in this regard. However, this is only to be expected as one of Frank's integrity, standing and personality would hardly be likely to attract any other sort. In this connection Frank must hold some kind of unofficial record, for he numbers no less than six Knights amongst his list of owners. They are Sir Alan Potter, Sir James Kirby, Sir Graham Waddell, Sir James Fletcher, Sir Sydney Snow and Sir Thomas Gordon, Frank says his career has been one of ups and downs and that he has had his share of failures as well as champions. Despite this there can be little doubt that he is one of the few trainers who has achieved such continued outstanding success.

He ruefully admits that he certainly trained one of the unluckiest horses ever to race. This was Silver Standard, which was beaten by a head or close to it in two Metropolitans and ran second in the Doomben, Caulfield and Melbourne Cups.

Although Frank has trained some horses whose names are now legend, he rates his best ever as Count Cyrano who, after a convincing Metropolitan win, was taken to Melbourne for the Cup in which he was established as clear favorite. It was a tragedy that he was killed on the track on Cup morning and never lived to fulfil the high hopes Frank had for him.

Another outstanding performer which Frank trained was Freckles. The measure of Freckles' greatness is that the record it set for seven furlongs over twenty years ago still stands today.

Always a keen Tattersall's member, it gives Frank great pleasure to recall the fact that he has won Tattersall's Cup three times. This was with Taressa to the best of Frank's knowledge the only three-year-old to have won this Club event, Monte Carlo and Corsair.

It would be tedious to attempt to comment on all the class performers which Frank has trained and which appear in list form in this article. Monte Carlo, for instance, which won both Derbies and the Sydney St. Leger, and Slogan, which took out two Doncasters. In later years Valerius was one of his bered by current followers of the turf. charges which will be freshly remem-

Well into his seventies, today, Frank could, perhaps, be forgiven for being a little nostalgic about the past—but this is certainly not the case and his views are as fresh and progressive as ever they were. He considers that racing has improved considerably over the years and that the horses of latter years are equally as good, if not better, than those of yesterday. He is convinced, for instance, that no horse could have beaten Tulloch on his day.

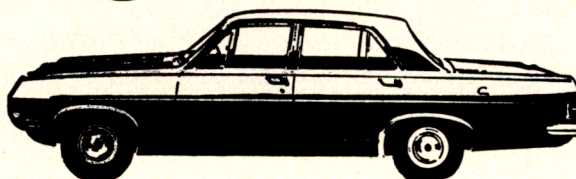

Frank steps down from his calling with a very fine record; one which any trainer might very well envy but which cannot be fully measured by his outstanding racing victories alone. To these must be added the stature he has gained in the racing world and the contribution he has made to it. So high does the name of Frank Dalton stand in turf circles that the Sydney Morning Herald has suggested that a race be called after him, a thought endorsed by all those with whom he has come in contact throughout his 55-year training career.

Frank's fellow members at Tattersall's pay him the highest tribute on his retirement and wish him every happiness and satisfaction for the future.

Outstanding Footballers of Yesterday

Tattersall's are proud of the fact that they have always numbered amongst their members many sportsmen. Some have distinguished themselves in their respective sporting fields; others have not but have participated for the love of their particular games.

It is intended to give readers of T.C.M. the backgrounds of some of our Tattersall's sportsmen from time to time as we feel sure such articles will be of great interest to them.

This month we feature four of our members who have achieved success in that popular football code, Rugby League. These members are: Dave Brown, international representative on many occasions and Kangaroo captain who established two records more than thirty years ago which still stand today; Ken McCaffery also international representative and Australian Vice-Captain; Ron Willey, another international player who also established a League record for Australia and John O'Toole, an outstanding local player who turned to administration in which he has had a distinguished career.

Dave Brown

There is no doubt that Dave Brown is one of the most colourful and successful players ever to don a League jersey. He played all his football with the famous Eastern Suburbs club in the mid-30's and naturally enough was the backbone of his team and its most successful player on many occasions.

Dave played his first international series in 1933-34 when he toured England with the Kangaroos. He was the youngest player in the touring party but he distinguished himself in the series and was to establish a record which is unbroken today. This was for the highest number of points scored by any player on a Kangaroo tour. In that series Dave amassed the mighty total of two hundred and eighty five points and no player since (and as all League followers know there have been many outstanding footballers who have had the opportunity) has been able to top that total.

Dave came back home for the 1935 season and was again to cover himself with glory and establish another football record. This was to score three hundred and eighty five points in a Sydney season, bettering his Kangaroo series total by exactly one hundred points and establishing a record which hasn't been equalled in the intervening thirty one years.

The reputation for outstanding ability which Dave had so justly earned up to this time made him the natural choice for Kangaroo captain and to this position he was appointed in 1936. He captained Australia in all the tests held here in that year, the youngest man ever to lead his country in League.

At the climax of his career Dave was offered a contract to play with the English club of Warrington. This he accepted and played there for three seasons once again proving to be an outstanding footballer and a match winner in many games.

Dave Brown was a natural athlete and sportsman and no doubt could have been equally successful in other fields if he had concentrated on them. He was for instance the Junior Surf Champion of Bronte club in 1930 and was also an A grade tennis player.

Currently Dave is the N.S.W. Leagues' Schools Liaison Officer where he is doing an excellent job in encouraging youngsters in the sport in which he established himself as an all-time great and to which he made an unparalleled contribution.

Ken McCaffery

A leading club footballer in two states in Australia and an international representative on many occasions, Ken McCaffery can look back on a successful career with some justifiable pride.

He started his league career with Eastern Suburbs in 1948 and the measure of his ability and potential was that he went straight into first grade from the juniors without playing a single match in the intermediate grades. Ken's family came from Toowoomba in Queensland and soon after he began playing decided to move back there. At the time Ken had only had a couple of seasons with Easts but already was regarded as a potential Kangaroo representative.

Naturally Ken continued playing football when he moved to Queensland with his family and was equally outstanding in that state. He represented Queensland many times and was selected to tour England and France with the Australian team in 1952-53. Chosen as a utility back on that tour he played most of his matches as half-back with great success.

Soon after their return from England and France in 1953 the Kangaroos were faced with a tour of New Zealand and on this occasion Ken was named Vice-Captain of the touring side.

In 1954 it was overseas again for Ken, this time as an Australian team member for the World Cup which was played in France. By this stage in his career he was playing most of his football as centre though occasionally he took the five-eighth position.

He continued to play representative football on his return to Australia and featured in many sterling games. Probably one of his most outstanding matches and one which will be remembered long by fans of the game was the World Cup game played in Australia in 1957. On that occasion Ken played as half-back and scored two sparkling tries against England at vital stages, materially assisting the ultimate result in which Australia went on to win the Cup.

Ken is one of only a small band of players to represent both N.S.W. and Queensland and, though his stay in the latter state was only short, he had a distinguished career with both. In addition to his overseas tour he had three trips to New Zealand with Australian teams and no doubt his national representation would have been far more extensive but for his unfortunate knee injury. However, despite this, he played over two hundred first grade matches before he put away his boots and began to concentrate on his commercial career.

Ken was an appropriately built athlete for the positions he played. He weighed around twelve stone twelve pounds throughout most of his career and was five feet nine inches in height. He had speed, power and the ruggedness necessary to play international standard football successfully.

Ken is presently employed by the N.S.W. Rugby League as coaching director and is also working with Dave Brown in the capacity of Assistant Schools Liaison Officer.

Ron Willey

Ron Willey started his football career young and played successfully with the President Cup's team in the Canterbury-Bankstown district. However it wasn't long before his ability and potential were recognized and he was promoted to first grade in 1948.

He played with this club for four years and proved himself to be an outstanding fullback with a number of very fine matches to his credit. His outstanding ability on the field was rewarded with selection in the Kangaroo team which toured England and France in 1952-1953. In that series he established a record by scoring over one hundred points, the first fullback ever to do so on an Australian Kangaroo tour.

Ron was to experience some bad luck on his return from the England-France tour however and it was to put him out of football for a full season and interrupt a career already well established and moving towards its height. He injured a knee soon after arriving back in Australia in 1953 and as a result had to forgo the 1954 season completely.

He moved to Queensland in that year and was once again back on the field in 1955 completely recovered from the severe knee injury and full of enthusiasm. He played for Rockhampton and again his ability earned him representative honours with selection in the state team. He played for Queensland in Sydney and in Brisbane.

However his stay in the North was to last only one season and he returned to Sydney in 1956. He joined up with Manly-Warringah where he was a welcome addition to the team.

He is now employed by a cigarette distributing firm yet still finds time to coach the reserve team for his old club, Manly-Warringah. He is also a member of the N.S.W. Rugby League coaching panel.

John O'Toole

Although John O'Toole had a long and successful career as a player in State League in which he laid the foundations for an extensive knowledge of the game, he is better known as an administrator.

As most members will know John is the Secretary of the N.S.W. Country Rugby Football League and has held this position with distinction for the past twelve years.

He has also been a member of the Australian Board of Control for the same length of time.

Practically all his football was played in the country in the Bathurst area. He regularly represented Group 10 in his playing days and was considered to be a fine player. Early in his career he played as a winger but later on was transferred to the forwards where he featured in the second row.

John managed the Australian World Cup side which toured Europe in 1960 and carried out this job with distinction. He was the youngest manager ever to take control of an Australian side overseas and proved that age was no bar to outstanding ability.

John also managed the Combined Country Team to Western Australia.

He is presently living in Sydney from where he conducts the affairs of the Country Rugby League. He has an office in the N.S.W. Rugby Football Leagues building in Phillip Street.

Turf bowling carnival success

A very successful Turf Bowling Association carnival was the highlight of our month's activities. It was won by Newcastle Tattersall's who thoroughly deserved their victory.

The Australian Turf Bowling Association initial carnival of which City Tattersall's were the host club was the best week ever in the history of Tattersall's bowling section.

Clubs participating were Brisbane Tatts, Newcastle Tatts, Tattersall's Sydney, Canberra Club, Melbourne Tatts, The Democratic Club Adelaide and City Tatts Sydney.

The first day was at Kyeemagh where 3 rounds of 15 ends were played, followed by high tea. The second at the St. George League's Club with dinner at night followed by boxing. Wednesday featured dinner and entertainment at The Bowlers' Club which was a fabulous show. The final day at Pennant Hills with dinner and the presentation of trophies was a fitting climax to a great week.

Results were; Newcastle 1st 33, Brisbane 2nd 29½, City Tatts 29, Canberra 27½, Tattersall's Sydney 20½, Democratic Club Adelaide 15½, Melbourne Tatts 13.

Teams to represent Tattersall's were: Dr. F. Porter, W. Sinclair, Jim Williams, A. Gibson, F. Empson, N. Solomon, J. Schofield, Ken Williams; J. Phillips, H. Jones, C. Cohen, G. Cohen.

Although we won only two games out of six, we had the honour of beating Newcastle in two out of three rinks, thus getting a 5 to 1 win over them.

The best performance was Alick Gibson's team's win over a City Tatts team skippered by Norm Ralph. Alick was trailing ten shots with three ends to go, and got up to win by 1.

The venue for next year is to be Adelaide, when we hope to be able to take about 20 players.

CONVINCING POINT SCORE WIN TO BOWES

Colin Bowes was well on his mettle in taking out the monthly point score last month, beating Jim Comans and Max Sernack in an exciting final.

It is most encouraging to note that the attendances at the pool are still climbing steadily and last month the average entry for our races was forty-two. This support and the enthusiasm which goes with it is keeping the Swimming Club more active than it has ever been before.

Colin Bowes made no errors in winning the last Swimming Club point score with three firsts and a third in finals, probably keeping well in mind that last season, when he looked a certainty for a win, he was so eager that he fell in at the start.

John Garrity was well in the running with a race to go when he was only a point astern of Bowes, but a second in the first final disposed of all chances he had unless the latter finished only third.

It was not to be as Colin beat Jim Comans and Max Sernack in a surprising close final.

Brian Mortensen was third in the contest for the monthly trophy and lost a second from his handicap in winning his heat in a dashing 19.8 seconds.

Jim Comans leads still in the 1965/66 "Native Son" point score and has a nice lead of 12½ points over that real enthusiast Charlie Robinson, who is one and a half a head of Syd Kay with Bill Rowe a further point away.

Looks as if Comans is an odds-on bet for the big trophy but there are twelve more races to be swum to complete the contest and, as we mentioned last month, Jim is going away for a holiday for some time, soon.

Fields in the races continue to be large with an average of forty-two for the past month's events and new members are still coming along—latest to be welcomed being John Cunningham and B. Murphy.

Cunningham rates a back-marker's handicap of 21 seconds and probably will beat that before long.

Doug Barrie lined up for his first race of the season some weeks back and it was good to see him in action, though he failed to take a place in his heat.

David Morrissey shines in Brace Relay Handicaps and this season has won four finals and been second in one. He doesn't appear to go as well in solo events, but he's always in demand as a partner in the relay. Still, he is in the first fifteen in the year's point score.

Congratulations to handicapper Clive Hoole and his wife, Irene, on attaining their Silver Wedding Anniversary on 16th April. Son Peter, whose birthday was on the same day, gave his parents a pat on the back with a party at his home.

Speedy David Cohen had bad luck in injuring his shoulder in the course of a Brace Relay handicap heat, which he won, and could not line up in the final and had to miss the following race. Hope it mends soon, David, as you are so well up in the "Native Son" contest.

Frank Falson has been absent for quite a while but we hope to see him in action again very soon. Reason for the absence—business!

After a long time in the doldrums Alan Hickey came good in the last event of the month by winning a two lapper. Trouble was that he swam so well that the handicapper lopped a couple of seconds off his handicap. Alan, however, was tickled to death with his improved form.

It's not often that two of the swimming officials are away at once and leave the running of the race to one of their number. But that's how it happened when Sam Block decided to go to Canberra for a week and Jack Dexter went north for Easter plus with son John to dangle a line in the briny at Sandon River, leaving it to Arthur McCamley to carry on.

However, there's never any dearth of competent replacements and on this occasion Jim Comans and Trevor Barrell did the job admirably.

Surprise of the month was the unexpected appearance of Phil Winn in the pool. Phil has been in England for some time and, as we reported in T.C.M., he attained wedded bliss and was presented by his wife with a son.

It was anticipated that Phil would not be back in Sydney for some years, but he was recalled by his firm and the boys at the pool were very happy to see him. Maybe we'll see him racing again soon.

Here are the boys who swam so well that they were reduced a second in handicap, Terry Forrest, John Garrity, Brian Mortensen, Colin Bowes and Don Hay, whilst Alan Hickey went back two.

Fastest winning times of the month were: 19.8, 20.3 and 20.4, Brian Mortensen; 20.4 John Garrity; 21 and 21.2, Terry Forrest; 21, Ken Humphery; 21.2, John Sprouster; 21.5, R. Hill.
